LIOUOR LAW'S PUZZLES. CHIEF CONLIN IS STRUGGLING WITH THEM NOW.

He Will Issue His Orders as to the Enforce will inside the Act Next Saturday—A New problem as to the Tax in the Annexed Dismet-Now the Law AffectsHone Fide Clubs. Chief of Police Corlin said yesterday that he will issue an order to the police force on next saturday rolative to the enforcement of the Liquor Taxlaw as amended. The Chief received scopy of the amended law yesterday, and has scopy of the best studying it carefully with a view of pre-been studying it carefully with a view of pre-paring his report. Some questions involved, he said, he might have to refer to the Corporation Counsel for his advice. There is said to be conrable doubt in the mind of the Chief as to the necessity under the law of every patrolman and officer of the force going about armed with foot rules, tape lines, and other measures to take the dimensions of hotel partitions, and dining and bedrooms. He does not believe that a policeman can best serve the community by sending all his time with a yardstick is an endeavor to ascertain that the law has been violated because a partition is 2% inches instead of 3 inches thick, or because there are only 5001as mble feet of air space in a hotel bedroom in steed of the 600 which the law demands.

The Chief is satisfied on one point, and that is that the amendments will pretty effectually prevent grocers who survived the original Liqor Tax law from continuing the sale of beer and liquors. Every grocer who sells bottled goods in a room which has a separate street enrance and no communication with his grocery The amended law is almost as full of problems as was the original Liquor Tax law of last year. One of the queer ones which has already been presented to Special Deputy Excise Commis-sioner Hilliard affects the traffic in liquors in that part of Westchester county which was anexed to the city in 1895. The original law treated that section as a town, and liquor dealover the Bronx were obliged to pay a tay of dealers in the old city. A little amendment to the law which slipped through with the others provides for an enumeration of the inhabitants of any territory which shall have been added to city since the last enumeration [the last numeration was in 1892], and that the tax would bring the tax in the Westchester annexed erritory from $100 up to $350, as for a city of less than 50,000 and more than 10,000 inhabitanta. Another section of the law requires the Special leputy Excise Commissioner after April 15, on the payment of the tax and the demand for the ne, to issue a liquor tax certificate. In obedirace to this requirement forty certificates were for the amendments became law. Then came the notice from Commissioner Lyman at Albany that the tax for the annexed district this year will be $450. All certificates to be granted bereafter will be issued only on the payment of that sum. What is bothering Col. Hilliard and Attorney Page is how to make the forty dealers who not certificates for $100 pay the remaining $250. The annexed district dealers say that Commis-

The annexed district dealers say that Commissioner Lyman has no right to change the tax rate until he has made an actual eunmeration of the inhabitants of the district to determine that they come within the $350 class. Those who have received certificates for $100 will defend their right to sell under them, and others will demand certificates at the same rate until the numeration shall have determined that they are not entitled to them. They aver that the Excise Commissioner cannot arbitrarily say that there are more than 10,000 persons in the district, and that an enumeration only can determine that.

trict, and that an enumeration only can determine that.

Considerable doubt has existed in the minds of many club men as to the exact provisions of the Laquor Tax law amendments relating to clubs, and the privilegres which they confer as well as the daties which are required. Section 2 of the law is amonded so as to define trafficking in lauors within the meaning of the act as "the distribution of liquor by, between, or on behalf of members of a corporation, association, or co-partnership, to a member thereof or to others, in quantities less than five wine gallons." Section 31, which declares what are illegal sales taker the law, such as Sunday selling, selling tetween 1 and 5 o'clock in the morning and on election days, is amended by the addition of this lawguage: And it is further provided that a corporation

"And it is further provided that a corporation or association, organized in good faith under changer 550 of the Laws of 1895, or under any law which, prior to May 6, 1895, provided for the organization of societies or clubs for social, itercative, or similar purposes, and which corporation was actually lawfully organized, and, if acorporation, its certificate of incorporation duly fled prior to March 23, 1898, and which, at such thate, trafficked in or distributed liquors among the members thereof, is excepted from the provious of clauses 'A.' B, 'C, and 'D' (the dances relating to Sunday and otherwise illegal selling).

rested by the State Commissioner of Excise by written instructions."

The application blanks for clubs were only received by Special Deputy Excise Commissioner Hiliard a few days ago. He has not received many applications for club certificates yet, but the Union League Club, the Arion, the Lieder-kranz, and many other clubs have applied for and received the blanks.

Bellevue Hospital. She was unable to get the child admitted to another institution and he died while she was wandering about in search of shelter for him.

The jury returned a split verdict. Six of the jurymen declared simply that the child came to his death by acute bronchitis induced by exposure. The remaining three jurors added:

"We consure the authorities of Bellevue Hospital for negligence in discharging a mother and child while in a weak and unfit condition."

Superintendent Murphy of Bellevue Hospital remonstrated loudly against this censure, but was made to sit down.

MRS. QUINN AFTER A FORTUNE Says She Has Dower Rights in a Piece of Arverne Real Estate.

JAMAICA, L. I., April 28.-Mrs. Delia Quinn of Classon avenue, Brooklyn, the widow of Thomas Quinn, whose death occurred recently in that city, claims an interest in a large amount of property at Arverne. She says that in 1883 her husband became possessed in common with Nathaniel McBride of a large tract of land at Nathaniel McBride of a large tract of land at Arverne, which the two men purchased together from the Cornwall heirs. They afterward sold the property, but Mrs. Quinn says she did not join in the sale. Now she claims her dower in the estate, and she has served notice to that effect upon the owners of the land in question. The land has been divided up into building lots and has become valuable. It is said to be worth more than a quarter of a million. Should Mrs. Quinn establish her claim she will get one-sixth of the property—that is, one-third of her husband's half.

FOUR KILLED AT A FIRE.

TWO WOMEN BURNED, TWO CHIL-DREN DASHED TO DEATH.

Mother, Finding Flight Impossible, Tosses Her Little Ones from the Top Flat of a Surning House and Falls Back Into the Flames—The Work of a Firebug! Four persons were killed at a fire early yesterlay morning in the four-story flat building at 1278 Third avenue, corner Fifty-fourth street,

Brooklyn. They were: MRS. CELIA BRUSETT, a widow, 55 years old. MRS. CARRIE NEWELL, 37 years old JOHN NEWELL, 7 years old. LEWIS NEWELL, 18 months old,

There is a strong suspicion that the fire was of incendiary origin and that it was started in the lower hallway near the main entrance on the Fifty-fourth street side of the building, as well as at the foot of the elevator shaft in the basement, so es to cut off the flight of the occupants and drive the flames through the building. A motorman on a passing trolley car was the first to discover the fire. He saw the smoke and flames pouring from the Fifty-fourth street entrance, and his shouts brought Policemen Halloran, Mannion, and Matthews on a run to the house. The policemen found that all access to the stairway was cut off by the flames, which had already reached the flat over the confectionery store on the corner. This was occupied by Mrs. Mary Hussey, a dressmaker, her two daughters. Anthony Sheehan and William Jasper. With the aid of the policemen they all reached the street in safety by climbing from the front windows and dropping from the awning over the store. The third flat was occupied by Frank Brunett, 30 years old, and his mother, Celia Brunett, aged 55. The son, on opening his bedroom door, was driven back by the flames, and finding it impossible to make any attempt to save his mother he rushed to the window and swung himself out, with the intention of climbing to the sill of the window below window and swung himself out, with the intention of climbing to the sill of the window below. He quickly lost his hold and dropped, striking the framework of the awning, from which he bounded to the street. A slight shock was all the injury he sustained.

When the firemen arrived the flames had extended to the top floor, occupied by John Newell, his wife, and their two children. Mr. Newell occupied a bedroom in the front of the house, and his wife and children slept in the rear. The fire in this instance also seems to have cut off all approach from the front to the rear apartments, for Mr. Newell could make no attempt to reach his wife and children. Swinging himself out of the front window nearest to the adjoining house he held on to the coping, while the flames had begun to lick his hands, until the people in the adjoining house pulled him through the window. He was slightly burned.

While the rescue of Newell was in progress his wife was at the front window on the other side of the building with the youngest child in her arms and the other by her side. She was about to throw the children to the street when the firemen implored her to wait until a blanker was procured. This was only the work of an instant, and while the firemen held the blanket under the window the woman dropped the children. Both fell several feet beyond the heads of the firemen, and striking the sidewalk were killed almost instantly. The mother, directly after dropping the children, fell back into the room. She probably thought she could reach the fire-escape in the rear, for when her charred body was found half an hour later it lay along the sill of the door leading to the halway. Mrs. Brunett was was also found dead in the sloove room on the fourth floor.

was also found dead in the alcove room on the fourth floor.

The building was gutted and the flames extended to the adjoining building. The total losses footed up $8,000. The firemen were unable to locate the exact spot where the fire started, but Chief Engineer Dale thinks that it started, but Chief Engineer Dale thinks that it was the work of an incendiary. He said: "This fire started about 2:190 clock. Fourteen minutes earlier the engines were called to a fire at 537. Third avenue. The men found that the first fire had been started by a firebug. A blaze had been started on the stairway leading to the first floor. The firebug, finding that he had been folled, may have jumped on a car and rode up to Fifty-fourth street and started the second fire."

Fire Marshal Brymer also regards the fire as suspicious, and a sifting investigation is under way. Coroner Coombe will not hold the inquest until this is completed.

Little John Newell, one of the victims, was widely known in South Brooklyn for his skill as a bicycle rider. His father, who escaped, is a repairer of bicycles.

A THRIFTY GROCERY CLERK. Rushanding His Employer's Funds for H

keeping Purposes. Grocer Peter R. Tumsuden of 1057 Fulton street, Brooklyn, becoming perplexed over three or four mysterious robberies in his store, took the police into his confidence, and this resulted in the arrest on Tuesday night of Herman Eck-holz, his 20-year-old trusted clerk. The robber-ies included money to the amount of $800 and several articles of jewelry, some of which young Eckholz had presented to his sweetheart. Ho had carefully laid aside the money with a view to prepare for housekeeping, and told his em-ployer where he could get it. His sweetheart was kept in ignorance of his thefts.
